

P-Series Truss Fall Protection

Fall protection systems created for a variety of applications

Our mobile truss system provides inexpensive fall protection for outside applications that lack permanent overhead anchor points, as well as inside applications that aren't confined to a designated work area.

The P-Series truss system provides fall protection for many locations or areas that require temporary protection. The system equips the popular T3 Integrated Triangular Truss with a built-in S-beam on a transportable base and may be moved in minutes to wherever it is needed.

Features

- Fall arrest system ideal for temporary applications and can be moved in minutes.
